

ALL IS SETTLED NOW BUT THE PHILIPPINES.

Spain Accepts Cuban Debt—Midnight Session of Our Cabinet Denied Her Last Appeal.

EXACT STATUS OF THE STEPS TOWARD A FINAL TREATY.

ARTICLES OF THE PROTOCOL SETTLED.

The cession of Porto Rico to the United States.
The relinquishment of all sovereignty over Cuba and dependent islands, and the cession of Cuba to the United States for its pacification and the establishment of a stable government. This country assuming no portion of the Cuban debt.
The cession to the United States of an island (Guano) in the Ladrone group.
The withdrawal of Spain's forces from the Western Hemisphere. (Now going on.)

THE ONE ARTICLE TO BE DECIDED.

The United States to occupy and hold the harbor and city of Manila and Subic Bay until a peace commission determines the rights of both Spain and the United States in the Philippines.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The secret cause of the hurried midnight Cabinet meeting at Philadelphia yesterday has come to light, and with that disclosure comes the information by a Cabinet officer that the Spanish Government has at last submitted to the unyielding demand of the United States that the Cuban article of the protocol should be embodied in the final treaty of peace, without conditions, cause and effect are in this case most intimate.

The acceptance by Spain of all responsibility for the $400,000,000 debt also brings the joint commission face to face with the last article of the protocol to be determined, that relating to the disposal of the Philippines.

A highly interesting series of steps led up to the Spanish submission to the American demands. After the American Peace Commissioners had submitted to their Spanish colleagues on Monday the definite refusal of the United States to further prolong the negotiations on the question of the Cuban debt, which step was decided on at the informal Cabinet meeting at the White House Monday morning, the Paris negotiations reached a crisis.

Negotiations Seriously Menaced.
Senator Montero Rios called the action to the Madrid Government, and accompanied it with a suggestion that, in view of the unyielding attitude of the Americans, he desired to be released from further service on the Spanish Commission.

This resignation of the president of Spain's commission, if it had been accepted, would have undoubtedly resulted in the simultaneous resignation of all the other Spanish Commissioners, and would thus have brought the peace negotiations to an abrupt close. This result was averted by the action of the Queen Regent in begging Senator Montero Rios to continue his services with the commission.

As a last resort the Spanish Commissioners on Tuesday drew up a statement declaring that if Spain should be compelled to assume the whole of the Cuban debt it would involve her in utter financial ruin, and begging the United States to deal mercifully with her.

Knowing that the American Commissioners had explicit instructions on this point from the American Government, the Spaniards begged that this appeal should be transmitted to McKinley, in the hope that clemency would be extended to them.

Hence the Cabinet Meeting.
It was this dispatch that Secretary of State Hay received yesterday afternoon, and which he considered of sufficient importance to send to the President in Philadelphia by special messenger.

In order that the fullest consideration should be shown to this appeal from Spain, President McKinley called together all of the members of his Cabinet who were in Philadelphia with him, and the question was given a most careful hearing.

It was decided once again that, in view of the fact that no monetary consideration was being asked from Spain, this country should not assume the debt of an island over which it did not propose to assume sovereignty, and also that it would not permit that debt to be charged against Cuba, when it had really been incurred for the benefit of Spain.

This decision was communicated to the Spanish Commissioners today, with the result of convincing them of the utter hopelessness of further argument.

It is not the intention of the United States to assume any part of the Philippine debt of $400,000,000, no matter whether this country retains only the island of Luzon or the entire group.

Now for the Philippines.
The Philippine question will not be touched upon until next week. In the meantime the formal language covering the relinquishment of Spanish sovereignty and the cession to the United States of the islands of Porto Rico and Guam, just as it is to appear in the final treaty, will be agreed upon by the American Commissioners.

In writing these articles of the treaty the language of the peace protocol will be followed as nearly as may be. Through the Peace Commissioners of Spain, has accepted the negative vote of the United States Peace Commissioners, but has not yet accepted the negative vote of the United States of the Cuban debt.

The American Commissioners have firmly but not unreasonably declined to assume for the Spanish financial conditions. Senator Montero Rios, the President of the Spanish Commission, and his colleagues, with faithful insistence, sought another suit. But they have failed to attain it, and have finally abandoned the effort and have agreed that the Cuban article of the protocol shall, without conditions, have a place in the ultimate Treaty of Peace.

The adjustments already accomplished will all stand in the final treaty, unless opposing views and positions on the Philippines should develop hereafter, and bring to naught the efforts of the future and at the same time, and obviously, the results already obtained.

Word was sent to Charlotte that the distressed vessel had been sighted near Putneyville, and the tug Proctor started with the life-saving crew. When within a mile of the St. Peter the crew on the Proctor saw the distressed ship sink. The captain of the St. Peter was picked up in an unconscious condition.

After spending half an hour looking for the other members of the crew the tug went to Sodus Point, where medical assistance was secured for the captain.

It is known that the wife of the captain was drowned. Eight or ten persons at least perished.

WEBBER AND HIS WIFE ARE NOT POISONERS.

They Were Accused by Aged Louis Schenck of Trying to Kill Him.

Max Weber and his wife, who were accused by Louis Schenck of attempting to poison him, were acquitted yesterday in Hackensack.

Schenck deeded property to the Webbers on condition that they give him a home during his lifetime. He claims they tried to poison him by putting arsenic in his sugar.

HALF A SCORE GO DOWN WITH A SHIP

Schooner St. Peter Founders in Lake Ontario, Near Sodus, N. Y.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The three-masted schooner St. Peter foundered in Lake Ontario, five miles from Sodus, to-day. Eight or ten persons were drowned, the captain being the only person saved.

The schooner showed signals of distress early this morning as she drifted past Charlotte. During the forenoon the people at Putneyville sighted the St. Peter and immediately telegraphed to Sodus Point that help be offered. The tug Cornelia, Captain Henry Buys, started for the rescue but the great seas nearly swamped the boat and the Cornelia was finally compelled to return to the harbor.
